ASSIGNMENT OF CREDIT FORM - Page 4

One objective of this form is to assign credit to the home colleges/departments of the PIs and principal contributors on a grant. Shared credit will be assigned to investigators, co-investigators, project directors, and other participants identified in the left hand column of the table below. Credit will be attributed to the home college and department of those individuals in proportion to the percentages appearing in the far right column. These percentages reflect "credit" for intellectual and technical responsibility for the project. They need not represent salary or time distributions for all project participants. No Research Incentive Funds (RIFs) go to the strategic initiative areas, and columnar summations for strategic initiatives do not take credit away from the colleges/departments.

The second objective is to identify connections with a strategic initiative area. The fractions provided in the bottom row associate the project with the University's Strategic Interdisciplinary Research Initiatives (SIRI) areas. The work need not be specifically within or supported by one of the Consortia or Institutes in order to be associated with an SIRI area. If the work is at all related to one or more of the SIRI areas, then the work should be specifically identified as falling within that field. The information collected is, in part, aimed at communicating with those outside of Penn State where we wish to project the full extent of the University's research programs in these key areas. If a project is in the area of Life Sciences, then the individual's percent credit is entered in the Life Sciences column. If this project supports more than one area, the individual's percent credit can be divided between different SIRI. For instance, if this project is partially Materials and partially Computational Sciences, the individual's percentage can be divided between these two areas. Please note that in the annual report, CYF will be rolled up under Social Sciences.

Please take a minute to accurately complete the form -- use whole percentages for all table entries. Data collected provides a global assessment of the size and vitality of the University's research activities in each SIRI area. In addition to providing a gauge on size and growth, the information provided identifies college/departmental contributions to each area, thereby allowing deans and department heads to assess the extent to which their faculty benefit from participation in each of the Strategic & Interdisciplinary Research Initiatives. Summaries of data collected using this form allow the University to capture the full breadth and strength of its programs in each of the SIRI areas and to subsequently communicate those strengths to potential students, sponsors and faculty recruits.

Investigator Financial or Business Interest Disclosure Policy

(Summary of Penn State Policy RA20 -- Applicable to all Sponsored Project Proposals)

What is required?

Federal regulations require institutions to have policies and procedures in place that ensure that Investigators disclose any significant financial or business interest that may present an actual or potential conflict of interest in relationship to externally sponsored projects. Such disclosures must be made prior to the submission of a proposal for funding,* and institutions must develop specific mechanisms by which conflicts of interest will be satisfactorily managed, reduced, or eliminated prior to the expenditure of any funds on an award.

- * If a new reportable significant conflict of interest arises at any time during the period after the submission of the proposal through the period of the award, the filing of a disclosure is also required.

Who is covered?

"Investigator" means the principal investigator/project director, co-principal investigators, and any other person at the University who is responsible for the design, conduct, or reporting of research, educational, or service activities funded, or proposed for funding, by an external sponsor. In this context, the term "Investigator" includes the Investigator's spouse and dependent children.

What must be disclosed?

Each Investigator shall disclose all significant financial or business interests:

- (i) that would reasonably appear to be affected by the research, educational, or service activities funded, or proposed for funding, by an external sponsor; or
- (ii) in entities whose financial interests would reasonably appear to be affected by such activities.

What is covered?

"Significant financial or business interests" means anything of monetary value/interest, including, but not limited to, compensation or other payments for services (e.g., consulting fees or honoraria); equity interests (e.g., stocks, stock options, or other ownership interests); intellectual property rights (e.g., patents, copyrights, and separately, royalties from such rights); and/or holding a management position or playing an advisory or consultative role (whether compensated or not) with a company or on the board of a company. The term does not include:

- (1) Salary or other remuneration from the University;
- (2) Income from seminars, lectures, or teaching engagements sponsored by public entities;
- (3) Income from service on advisory committees or review panels for public or non-profit entities;
- (4) Income from service on advisory committees or review panels for non-profit entities that are not affiliated with "for profit" companies;
- (5) An equity interest that, when aggregated for the Investigator and the Investigator's spouse and dependent children, meets any of the following tests: does not exceed $10,000 (considered as a de minimis amount) in value as determined through reference to public prices or other reasonable measures of fair market value, does not represent more than a five percent ownership interest in any single entity, does not involve research with human participants, and will not be affected by the outcome of the study;
- (6) Broad based mutual funds;
- (7) Other compensation, royalties or other payments that, when aggregated for the Investigator and the Investigator's spouse and dependent children over the next twelve months, are not expected to exceed $10,000 (considered as a de minimis amount), does not involve human participants and will not be affected by the outcome of the study.

Financial and business interests in human participants research must be the focus of intense scrutiny. When human participants are involved, no de minimis will apply.

Disclosure Procedures:

- (1) All Investigators must disclose their significant financial or business interests using COINS (Penn State's electronic Conflict Of Interest System) by following the link: <http://coins.psu.edu>.
- (2) Financial disclosures submitted in COINS will be automatically forwarded to the discloser's Department Head for review.
- (3) After Department review, disclosures are electronically routed to the Conflict of Interest Program. Conflict of Interest staff determine whether disclosures can be processed administratively, or if they need to be reviewed by the Conflict of Interest Committee.
- (4) A plan to manage any conflicts of interest must be in place prior to the expenditure of any award funds.
