Starting the Career Search

Penn State Resources:

Penn State Career Services
Career Services offers a variety of programs and services that supports and facilitates career development for all students. These include: physical & online resource libraries, drop-in & individual career counseling, workshops, resume building, and mock-interviews.

Career Information Center (found on Career Services site)
Penn State Career Services has this section of their website dedicated to learning about career fields, employers, internship & career search sites, as well as other resources to help in the overall internship/job search process.

Going Global Career Country Guides (found on Career Services site)
Learn more about what industries, employers, and opportunities exist abroad in other countries. You can also find information about work permits and visa requirements for employment in other countries.

Nittany Lion Career Network (found on Career Services site)
The Nittany Lion Career Network offers an online database of job postings and job leads/prospects. They also hold information sessions, career fairs, and on-campus interviewing (OCI).

AgSci Career Network
The AgSci Career Network offers similar services as the Nittany Lion Career Network. While this network is smaller, it is specifically tailored to students and alumni in the College of Agricultural Sciences.
Additional search options:

USAJOBS
Departments, bureaus, and agencies within the US government use this website to post many of their position openings. However, it is important to check directly with the department, bureau, or agency of interest, as sometimes positions are not posted on USAJOBS.

USAJOBS for Students & Recent Graduates
This section of the main USAJOBS site includes positions related to co-ops, internships, entry-level employee programs, and others.

Idealist
Idealist allows you to search not only jobs, but also organizations, volunteer opportunities, internships, events, programs, resources, and people. You can refine your searches by location, area of focus, job function, employment type, professional level and more. Businesses, NGOs, non-profits, community organizations, and even some government employers all post on Idealist.

DEVEX
Similar to Idealist, DEVEX provides a searchable database of people, organizations, projects, and jobs related to international development. Searches are highly customizable. Viewing certain sections of information may require you to sign up with DEVEX, which is free.
Résumé Tips

Options for formatting your experiences abroad:

List 1-3 bullet points of relevant knowledge, skills, and abilities used/developed.
Interview Tips

Job Interviews: What skills do you earn from studying abroad?
Employers are looking for students who have studied abroad to demonstrate the skills to work in a global economy. Here are some main skills to mention:

- Foreign language proficiency
- Adaptability: Open mindedness; cultural understanding; tolerance; travel skills; crisis management; problem-solving; flexibility
- Independence: Increased confidence; initiative; cooking own meals; self budgeting; work ethic
- Interpersonal skills, such as: Patience; observation skills; local etiquette; global, economic, and political awareness; team and leadership skills
- Time management: Balancing work, studying, entertainment and exploration smoothly is no easy task. Leaving after seeing 8 countries with an 3.8 GPA 18-credit semester is an impressive feat to any employer!

Try using the STAR method for your interview responses.

S – Situation: Describe what you are facing

T – Task: Describe what you wanted to achieve

A – Action: Describe what you did

R – Results: Describe what happened, how things turned out, what you learned, and what you might do differently if presented with the same circumstances.

Informal Keyword Searches

To search this entire document, press “ctrl + F” for a PC, or “command + F” for a Mac. A search box should become active at either the top or bottom of your document window. Type in a word and press enter to search the document. You can then jump from one result to another by hitting enter or clicking on the arrows near the search box.

For example, type in “Africa” to search for organizations that are active in Africa. Or type “community” to search for organizations engaged in community development work. Note, when searching for positions in North, Central, or South America, just type “North”, “Central” or “South” in the search bar.

One Acre Fund
https://www.oneacrefund.org/

Description:
One Acre Fund is an agriculture organization that helps East African farmers to grow their own way out of hunger. We think that food aid is at best a temporary solution, and instead have put together a permanent, proven investment package for farmers and their families, which doubles farm income by providing seeds and fertilizer, weekly farm education, and market facilitation. This investment package is the core of our program.
